

How to Write an Ef

Dominant ladies receive a LOT of realize the extent of Goddess." You can bet hundreds of prevent a lady f

Most guys just do not present themselves well when responding to an ad, placing an ad, or requesting attention f

When I was ready to write a personal- looking f I wanted. I was (and am) very clear on what I want. In addition, I know what I am willing to compromise on versus what I need in a relationship, and what I have to of

I have written this as a guide to help submissive guys write better personals.

Some Guidelines:

1. Be honest.

This is probably the most important thing to do. If eventually (probably sooner than you think) and your hope f f

I would end the relationship the minute I f would do anything to get what they want. A guy recently impressed me BIG time by being honest about something.

However, this doesn't mean you have to 'spill your guts' so to speak. Some things SHOULD be lef personal f casual play etc.) you probably should mention that- but you don't have to go into your whole history. If have grown children or don't have custody- you probably don't need to mention it in your ad.

2. Be specif

You can't f take some time thinking about this- it is worth the time. Look over the list of and do some soul searching. Know yourself want and what you are willing to compromise of

3. Check spelling- USE a dictionary!

A f does look bad. If if

4. Put some thought into your ad

I mean REALLY put some thought into your ad. Don't just post a quick one sentence request f This will not likely yield any responses. Trust me when I say (again) that dominant ladies get tons of sentence requests f

Some questions to think about:

First- What you are looking for partner? What EXACTLY are you seeking? What you are seeking in general will dictate the questions that you should ask yourself interests outside of

Now who are YOU?

What do you like within the realm of

What are your MAIN interests in BDSM?

What turns you on?

What turns you off

Do you have anything that you are NOT into?

For ideas here you can check out one of

What do you have to do

A hint about this question: DON'T of you are seeking a casual situation. Even then it would improve your chances if than that. The reason is because that is so common. You want to stand out. Be creative. Of f and interesting.

Next What are you looking for

What do you want in a partner within the realm of

What do you want in a partner outside of Now- what of compromise? There is always compromise in a relationship.

Things to keep in mind.

This is reality. There are no f relationship there is always a balance of the Domme is getting what they want at the expense of A submissive would not stay if Domme to meet his or her submissive's needs to the best of Most dominant ladies that I know would LIKE to be romanced- just like vanilla ladies. If attitude that you need this and you need that- without any apparent willingness to get to know the lady and meet some of

The Personal Ad Makeover

Here is a generic and extremely common ad f

"Looking f

The problem: WHY should a Domme answer this ad? There is nothing stated about the person posting the ad or really what they are looking f desperate and it also seems to imply that meeting her needs is not really important- since you don't say anything about meeting her needs. "Willing to serve." is NOT meeting a lady's needs- because there are usually requirements that go along with this. For example you are willing to serve IF she makes you wear women's clothing and SHE wears f planning things and getting dressed. I am not saying that we don't LIKE to do this- I know I like to dress hot- BUT this is still about what YOU need, not what you are willing to give. As much as I LIKE 'f housecleaning, the f

Now look at the f

Things that I want to know when I get a letter:

1. First of contact me f me. I get a lot of vague and don't say where they contact me f
2. Age. I want to know a guy's age. Most say, but some don't
3. I pref right up f are ProDommes. I am not a Pro. You won't trick me into playing with you by NOT telling me you are married. I am psychic ☺ - so don't even try.
